intercepted- PROTECTIVE LEGAL NOTICE & FORMAL
STATEMENT OF NON-CONSENT

Saturday, 20 September 2025

To Attending Officers / Paramedics

I, Dr. Richard William McLean (also known as Barran Dodger), make the following formal statement:

“I am Dr. Richard William McLean, also known as Barran Dodger.

I am not suicidal and I take my regular medication.

I do not consent to detention or hospitalisation without lawful written justification.

I exercise my right to silence and I request a lawyer immediately.

I am a whistleblower facing political reprisals, threats, and attempts on my life.

I allege that the NDIS Minister, Bill Shorten, has worked with NDIS staff and police to weaponise my mental health to justify my exile and to silence or target me. Please record this allegation now, preserve all evidence, and notify independent oversight. Ben ndis provider confirmed this. (See above)

Formal (for legal complaints, Ombudsman, ICC dossier)

I am in imminent danger. My life is at risk not only from prolonged financial abuse, neglect, enforced poverty, political exile, enforced isolation, surveillance and ongoing psychological torture, but from credible threats of physical violence. I allege credible, named threats and hostile acts involving Steve Iasonidis, Houd Meraby, Tony Riddle, and others aligned with Debbie Morgan, certain family members who have betrayed me, and elements of embedded police corruption. I further allege there is an active risk from violent vigilantes encouraged by smear campaigns that brand me a “rapist” or “pedophile” without arrest or due process — smears designed to justify extrajudicial violence. Taken together, these circumstances amount to targeted, systemic persecution that places a gay, disabled, unprotected whistleblower at mortal risk — a campaign that I contend constitutes state-enabled harm, and which demands immediate independent investigation, protective intervention, and preservation of all relevant records.

Short emergency line (for handout / sign to officers)

My life is in immediate danger from credible threats and violence linked to named individuals (Steve Iasonidis, Houd Meraby, Tony Riddle), complicit family members, and corrupt actors in police/oversight roles. I am being driven into exile, poverty and surveillance while smear campaigns seek to justify violence against me. I demand urgent protective action, an independent investigation, and preservation of all evidence.

Your professional duty is to protect life, act impartially, and preserve evidence — not to align with perpetrators or follow orders blindly.

If you act on a preconceived mandate or accept inducements, you abandon your ethics and may be complicit in unlawful persecution.

I ask you to:

- Record that you heard this statement,
- Allow me to contact a lawyer,
- Provide me a copy of any paperwork,
- And not remove my therapy dog.

Please uphold your ethical and human obligations — not align with oppressors.”

Statement on Weaponisation of Mental Health

You cannot weaponize “mental health” against me when it is the very system itself — through persecution, denial of rights, financial abuse, enforced poverty, homelessness, and repeated threats — that has created the conditions for my distress.

What is being called “illness” is not a private defect in me; it is the predictable, rational response to systemic cruelty, coercion, and betrayal. The state cannot both create these conditions and then pathologize me for surviving them.

Despite this, I have survived. I am not suicidal, I take my regular medication, and I protest because I want to live. I want to contribute to society as I have in the past, and I demand what every citizen in a democracy is entitled to:

- A home and safe shelter,
- A safe place to be where I am not hunted or erased,
- Access to food and basic sustenance,
- A secure, stable space for my therapy dog and I,
- And recognition of my inherent dignity, rights, and capacity to exist freely within a democracy.

To deny these essentials while simultaneously labelling my distress as “illness” is hypocrisy and abandonment of democratic obligations. It is persecution disguised as care.

I reject that false framing. I stand on my right to live safely, to be housed, fed, and protected, and to exercise my whistleblower protections without psychiatric coercion.

1. Non-Consent, Right to Silence & Request for Lawyer

I do NOT consent to being taken to hospital or detained under any mental-health or emergency powers unless there is clear, lawful, and written justification.

I exercise my right to silence and request a lawyer immediately. I will answer no questions without legal representation present.

I am not suicidal. I take my regular prescribed medication. I protest this process because I want to live, to contribute to society as I have in the past, and because I deserve a safe home and a safe place for my therapy dog and me.

I request your full ID name position and who under.

2. Immediate Circumstances

I am not a danger to myself or others. I require safe shelter, legal representation, and protection from harm — not psychiatric incarceration.

I am currently unable to travel because my vehicle has malfunctioned and I have no petrol or funds to continue. This situation is the direct result of systemic and political financial abuse and corrosive financial control over thirty years, during which my prosperity has been deliberately redacted and denied, and my access to legal aid obstructed.

3. Whistleblower Status & Political Reprisal

I am a whistleblower. My disclosures of corruption have led to political reprisals, financial sabotage, and attempts to erase me.

This is not a matter of “mental illness”; it is political persecution and retaliation.

4. NDIS Pathway — Preya Grounder

I confirm that Preya Grounder, an NDIS provider, has agreed to accept me as a client and to meet me in Blacktown.

I request to remain where I am until my pay is processed, at which point I will be able to travel to Blacktown safely and legally under NDIS arrangements.

This demonstrates I already have a support plan and do not require coercive psychiatric intervention.

5. Specific Allegations & Threats

- I have been financially abused under corrosive financial control and denied legal aid.
- I have suffered family violence and exploitation from Steve Iasonidis.
- I was targeted by Tony Riddle, a senior fraud investigator at the NDIS, with whom I had a sexual encounter. He directly threatened me, saying I would “be erased.”

- I formally accuse Bill Shorten of ordering my assassination by sending “houd meraby” (a criminal operative) from Melbourne to Sydney to locate me; I was warned he would “erase me.”
- I survived a prior assassination attempt in Port Macquarie, confirmed by witnesses including NDIS provider staff.
- I am subjected to ongoing electronic harassment / V2K psychological torture, with coercive phrases such as “they know” and “give up” broadcast into my environment.

6. Weaponisation of Mental-Health Allegations

Any suggestion of mental illness is being weaponised as part of this persecution. These allegations are coordinated and politically motivated to justify surveillance, harassment, and denial of rights.

7. Demands for Documentation & Due Process

- Record all interactions in writing.
- Provide me with copies of any documents, orders, or justifications used against me.
- Allow immediate contact with a lawyer and permit silence until legal counsel is present.
- Allow independent witnesses to be notified.

8. Therapy Dog

My therapy dog Crystal must remain in my care and must not be removed under any circumstances.

9. Legal Significance of Phillip's Receipt of Documents

Phillip French (Senior Client Service Officer, NSW Trustee & Guardian / NSW Public Guardian) has already been formally served with my notices and evidence. His office has a legal and moral duty to act, protect, and preserve records. If officers or paramedics act against my will after Phillip's receipt of documents, such actions may be treated as further evidence of neglect, obstruction of justice, and complicity.

10. Complicity Warning

If you proceed against my clearly stated will, you may be complicit in documented crimes of persecution, torture, and unlawful detention, which are already the subject of domestic and international review.

11. Ethical Duty of Professionals (Refusal to Align with Oppressors)

I request and formally demand that any professional person who receives or attends to this document — including police, paramedics, health professionals, social workers, lawyers, government officials, and NDIS representatives — refuse to align with my oppressors, refuse to accept bribes or inducements, and do not forsake your ethical, legal, or human obligations to me as a person and a victim of persecution. If you are offered inducements, pressured, or commanded to act contrary to this statement or to suppress, conceal, or falsify records, you must refuse. Uphold your duty of care, independence, and professional ethics.

12. Service Confirmation

I confirm I have served a copy of this statement and supporting correspondence to:

Phillip, Senior Client Service Officer, NSW Trustee & Guardian — csc@tag.nsw.gov.au

I request that attending officers:

1. Record receipt of this document in the incident report.

2. Provide me with a copy of any paperwork you produce.
3. Sign below to acknowledge you have been given this statement.

Lastly:

Here's a compelling list of 10 AI-crafted questions designed to put any police officer, paramedic, or health professional on the spot — forcing them to confront their duties and the consequences of ignoring evidence. Each question is framed so that refusal, evasion, or silence highlights hypocrisy, negligence, or complicity.

10 Accountability Questions for Police & First Responders

1. If I have already served notice of threats, evidence of attempted assassination, and systemic abuse, what lawful justification could you possibly claim for ignoring it — and would you be willing to state that justification on the record, in writing, with your name and badge number?
2. If you accept that I am not suicidal, take my prescribed medication, and articulate a clear plan for support through the NDIS, then what lawful authority permits you to override my will — other than prejudice or political pressure?

3. How can you claim to act in the interest of “health” or “safety” if the very conditions creating my distress — homelessness, financial abuse, and political persecution — are produced and sustained by the state you represent?
4. What is your professional code of conduct worth if you align with perpetrators, accept bribes, or follow unlawful mandates, instead of upholding impartiality, preserving evidence, and protecting life?
5. If you detain me or seize my therapy dog without lawful written justification, how will you defend that decision in court, in an Ombudsman’s investigation, or before a human rights tribunal?
6. Will you put in writing — here and now — that you have been presented with evidence of political persecution, systemic financial abuse, and death threats, and that you refuse to act on it?
7. Do you accept that acting on preconceived assumptions instead of documented facts makes you complicit in persecution, and that complicity carries consequences for your career, reputation, and legal liability?
8. What will you say to your own professional body — police standards, paramedic registration, medical board — when asked why you disregarded a formal protective notice, evidence of threats, and a whistleblower's lawful requests?

9. If your mandate is to protect the community, how does ignoring a citizen's evidence of persecution, denying them a lawyer, and removing their safety and shelter fulfil that mandate?

10. If history records this moment as one where you had a chance to protect a persecuted whistleblower but instead enforced silence and erasure, how will you justify your actions to your children, your conscience, or the public you swore to serve?
